With the United States Expeditionary Force, East of Algiers, Nov. 9 (Delayed) (AP)—United States soldiers swept in from the Mediterranean to take all vital objectives east of Algiers in a single day against opposition which was fierce in spots.

The attack, which was the easternmost tip of a three-pronged thrust against French-held North Africa, was launched with a 1 a. m. raid by assault troops with wave after wave of soldiers, vehicles and artillery following throughout the night and day.

With an armistice in effect this morning battle-stained soldiers began setting up defensive positions against possible counterattack and making preparations to occupy the remaining points in this area.

Land in Total Darkness

A heavily guarded convoy brought troops into position for landing operation in combat transports promptly on schedule Saturday night.

Silently and in total darkness, landing craft were lowered into choppy water and the first assault troops swung over side on nets of heavy rope and took their positions in the boats. Other units from this battleforce made landings on three beaches in the neighborhood of Sintaya and Surcouf, promptly on the fixed hour of 1 a. m. The easternmost beach was used for vehicles and artillery. U. S. amphibious infantrymen raced up the deep sand of the middle beach and British commandos headed the attack on the third.

Wave after wave of men and materials followed at intervals of ten minutes to half an hour.

The first company of the battalion on the middle beach began marching toward the airport at Malon Blanche immediately after hitting land. Other units followed swiftly and the 11-mile march was completed without rest.

Short Burst of Fire

The spearhead of the advance on the airport was commanded by Capt. Frank Gunn of Crawfordville, Georgia, whose company circled the giant field and attacked from the southeast.

First Lieut. Edwin Perry of Farmington, Massachusetts, said as he led his platoon across the field there was a short burst of fire from fixed machinegun position manned by Algerian troops but before he could order answering fire the Algerian troops stood up and surrendered.

Similar token opposition met the company attacking the main gate but the airport was taken without the firing of a U. S. shot and there were no casualties on either side.

The troops reached the field at 5:45 a. m. and it was in their hands at 6:20.

Capture Axis Planes

Our troops captured an Italian warplane and a Junkers 88 German divebomber on this airport. A number of French fighter planes also were on the field. The French administration of the drome was not disturbed but the normal guard was disarmed and replaced by American soldiers.

This operation was under the command of Lieut. Col. A. H. Rosenfeld, a former Camden, New Jersey, lawyer.

Another battalion commanded by Major Joseph Grigg, of Darlington, South Carolina, landed and started in the direction of Malon Carre but encountered opposition from dual purpose anti-aircraft guns at Fort Deleau and suffered light casualties.

Countering with mortar fire, the French guns were silenced and the batterymen surrendered but were released a short time later.

Attackers Driven Off

This correspondent stood on a cart in a farmyard which served as temporary regimental headquarters and watched a bombardment a few miles away.

From this same position, I watched as Axis air forces pressed home a terrific attack just before nightfall on transports and a beach on which vehicles and troops still were being landed.

High level and dive bombers dropped high explosives but were driven off by massed fire from the transports' guns and supporting fire from British naval vessels.

Lieut. Col. J. Trimble Brown of Virginia (town unavailable) reported no ships were hit and all bombs aimed at the beach fell into the water.

Spitfire squadrons flown in from Gibraltar and operating on the field captured by U. S. forces protected this area.

UPTON CROMER, FARMER, KILLED BY TRAIN NEAR SEVEN STARS

Upton Cromer, 73-year-old Franklin township farmer, was killed instantly about 5:15 o'clock Thursday evening when he was struck by a Western Maryland locomotive as he walked along the tracks a quarter mile west of Seven Stars.

Mr. Cromer, who had been very deaf for a number of years, is believed not to have heard the train approaching from the east as he walked westward toward his farm a mile away. His skull was fractured; his right leg severed below the knee and he suffered internal injuries.

Members of the train crew which manned the locomotive and caboose which were bound for Hagerstown when the accident occurred told investigators that they did not see the man on the tracks until after the accident. The train was stopped at once. There is a slight curve in the tracks at the point where the tragedy took place.

Death Accidental, Says Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, ascribed the death to accidental causes and said there will not be an inquest. Corporal F. C. Russell and Private George Ackerman of the Gettysburg substitution of the state motor police and railroad authorities also made investigations.

The members of the train crew were identified as follows: Engineer, R. M. Rhoades, Funkstown, Maryland; fireman, A. D. Powell, Hagerstown; conductor, J. H. Stoenire, Smithburg R. 2, Md.; brakeman, E. M. Burkholder, and flagman, C. G. Trout, both of Hagerstown.

The engineer estimated the train's speed at between 25 and 27 miles an hour.

Friends said today that Mr. Cromer's car was out of order and he had hitch-hiked to Gettysburg earlier Thursday and was walking home when the accident took place.

Apparently he was using the railroad as a shortcut from the Seven Stars crossing to his farm which lies south of the Lincoln highway.

Services on Sunday

Mr. Cromer is survived by a son, Clarence Cromer, Harrisburg; a daughter, Mrs. Marsby C. Little, Freeport, Pa.; a sister, Mrs. E. S. Kelly, and a brother, Harvey S. Cromer, both of York street.

Former Highway Employee

Following his discharge from the army he was employed by the state highway until 1932 and from then until his illness was employed as a chief clerk at the U. S. Depot, New Cumberland. Mr. Oliver was a member of the American Legion Post No. 27, Harrisburg.

He was a veteran of World War I, enlisting in 1917 as a member of Co. B, 41st Infantry. He served in various companies until his discharge on March 24, 1922. His service required him to be stationed in Hawaii, China and the Philippines.

As a sergeant he served as instructor at Gettysburg college for some time.

Gettysburg firemen used chemicals and one hose line to bring under control flames that broke out in the apartment of Mrs. Hazel Miller on the third floor of the P. W. Stallsmith building, center square, shortly before 11:30 o'clock this morning.

Fire Chief James A. Aumen said the fire apparently started in an overstuffed chair and spread into a partition. Other furniture in the room was damaged and other rooms of that apartment and adjoining rooms were damaged by smoke.

Mr. Stallsmith, owner of the building, said damage probably would amount to $500.

The Miller apartment was unoccupied at the time of the blaze.

Chief of Police Glenn Guise today is investigating thefts from a Buford avenue service station and the National garage on Chambersburg street which occurred within an hour this morning and may have been committed by the same person.

A money bag containing from $30 to $50 was taken from a desk in the Cities Service station on Buford avenue between 9 and 9:30 o'clock this morning while the wife of the proprietor, H. Elmer Snyder, was busy in her home on the opposite side of Howard street. Mrs. Snyder was watching the station at intervals but said she saw no one near the building during her absence.

An hour earlier Carl S. Menchey, manager of the National garage, discovered that his pocketbook containing about $3, a gas ration book and his auto license cards had been stolen from the garage office. Menchey suspects that a hitchhiker who used the wash room a short time earlier may have taken the pocketbook.

Continue Story At Sunday Service

The second part of the story of "Pilgrim's Progress" will be rendered at Trinity Evangelical Reformed church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Old familiar gospel hymns of the church will be heard in connection with the telling of the story. The vespers and senior choirs will be in charge of the music. The following hymns will be rendered: "Down in the Valley," "Faith Is the Victory," "Lead Kindly Light," "The Sweet By and By," "He Leadeth Me," "Over the River Faces I See," "Beulah Land" and "Jerusalem, the Golden."

The public is invited to attend.

WIND BREAKS TWO POLES; GRASS BURNS

High winds brought down two electric line poles carrying high tension wires this morning and set fire to grass and corn fodder in fields of Ernest Bream, Huntington township, five miles west of York Springs, near the Izaelville road.

York Springs firemen responded to a call and put out the flames which spread across a grass field and destroyed several shocks of corn fodder on the Bream farm.

Both poles snapped off at the surface of the ground. A large rural area served by the utility lines was without current as a result of the break.

Plans for a campaign to raise $1,000 for aid to stricken students in the war countries was announced today by the Student Christian association of Gettysburg college.

Students will be asked to deposit a minimum of a dime per week, during the remainder of the school year.

Entertains High School Grid Squad

Sixty-five members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's club were present at the annual World Fellowship Dinner held at the YWCA on Thursday evening. The affair opened with the salute to the flag and the singing of "America" with Miss Genevieve Cluck at the piano. Miss Long Black gave the prayer. Women in 50 nations comprise the World YWCA and annually they set aside a week for emphasis of fellowship all over the world.

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, chairman of the Public Affairs committee, presided and in explaining the purpose of the dinner she stated that while many world evils will still have to be corrected after the present conflict is over, the immediate challenge to our people is to win the war, and she called for definite suggestions in which citizens could do their share.

These pointers were given by the Misses Myrtle Stauffer, Esther Hartman, Dorothy Foth, Mindele Weikert, Roberta Blittinger, Esther Tipton, Rose Armor, Elizabeth Woods and Mrs. John Page.

Clarence Nuss, accompanied by Miss Alice M. Snyder, played two violin solos, "Soldier's Chorus" from "Faust" and "In a Rose Garden." Dr. Frederick Tilberg, accompanied by Miss Ruth E. Spangler, sang "Without a Song" and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes."

Colonel and Mrs. E. J. Oliver showed pictures of Alaska and parts of this country and spoke concerning them.

Decorations were in charge of Miss Janet Scott and consisted of yellow and pink chrysanthemums, with table decorations of bitter sweet, autumn leaves and fall vegetables. In the center of the room was a globe of the world surrounded by small silk flags of all nations.

The dinner was served by the club's ways and means committee, Mrs. Ray Kitzmiller, chairman. Husband and friends of members were guests.

Miss Esther Tipton, club president, announced that the club, together with the two local men's service clubs, had been invited to attend the fourth birthday dinner of the Soroptimist club on Monday, November 23, and members wishing to attend should notify her.

Judge W. C. Sheely will teach the Senior department of St. James Lutheran Sunday School Sunday morning.

Mrs. C. H. Heit, Hotel Gettysburg, attended the wedding of her cousin, Miss Eleanor Roberts Nelson, and Lt. John Chambers Good, at the Church of Falling Spring, Chambersburg, Wednesday.

Anna Marie Riley, Gettysburg R. 3, is visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

These who spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Rush Mellott, near Bonneauville, were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sparks and daughter, Marion, Everett; Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Mellott and daughter, Ruth Ann, and William Robinson, Camp Hill; R. C. Meiningher and daughter, Charlotte, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Mae Shearer, Lock Haven; Miss Marjorie and Maynard Wilkins, Crystal Springs, and Donald Spade, Middletown.

The Men's Bible class at St. James Lutheran Sunday School will be taught this week by the Rev. Ralph W. Baker, of Gettysburg. The class will convene at 9:15 a. m.

Another party by St. Francis Xavier parish for the air cadets at the Boulevard airport school and the Catholic students at Gettysburg college will be held Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in Xavier hall. The affair will be in the nature of a farewell for cadets who soon will leave the airport school. There will be cards and dancing.

In observance of National Book week, an exhibit of books for adults and children was placed on display Wednesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg. The display was arranged by Mrs. Richard C. Walton, a member of the club.

Members of the Woman's Club of Gettysburg are filling out questionnaires on war bond and stamp sales requested by the U. S. Treasury department through the war bond and stamp committee of the General Federation of Women's clubs. The questionnaires were distributed at the club meeting on Wednesday and are to be placed in special boxes at the "Y" building or the Majestic theatre today or Saturday. The questionnaires which are to be unsigned will give the name of the club, the county in which it is located and a statement as to whether the club member or her husband is purchasing bonds or stamps regularly. An estimate also is asked of the maturity value of the bonds and stamps so purchased since May 1 of last year.

Plans for a campaign to raise $1,000 for aid to stricken students in the war countries was announced today by the Student Christian association of Gettysburg college.

Students will be asked to deposit a minimum of a dime per week, during the remainder of the school year.

AXIS STRIPPED TUNISIA'S ARMS

Eigler P.-T.A. Has 185 Members; To Repeat Clinic

(Editor's note: Some of what is ahead of the Allies in Tunisia is told in the following dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent who became well acquainted with the French North African empire during an assignment of several months last year.)

By WILLIAM C. McGAFFIN

New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP)—

The efficiency of the Axis in its French protectorate's topography will help the Americans and their British Allies in their drive to occupy the last French foothold in North Africa.

In addition to the 27 members of the varsity squad, three managers, Coaches George Forney, Russell Gilbert, Fred Haecklen, Richard Folketh and Faculty Manager John Black were present. An additional guest was John Fleshman, former janitor at the high school.

Assault Troops

(Continued from Page 1) drove themselves after 36 hours without sleep, landing ammunition, and unloading jeeps, tanks and guns in a high surf. Soft sand made each step a labor and the heavy vehicles had to be virtually dragged through it.

Two tank lighters turned over in the surf and underwater rocks hampered the operation of others.

During the height of the activity, the ranking officer in this area turned to Lieutenant Colonel Brown and said "This is Dunkerque in reverse."

After the first wave of troops left our ship to initiate landing operations, I returned to the wardroom and with a grim-faced group listened as the radio reported a United States communiqué that an expeditionary force had landed in north Africa.

While we were listening to the communiqué, the radio officer rushed in to say that communication with the beach party had been established and the landing was a success.

BRITISH RETAKE

The question now was whether he would hug the coast for its better road and water supplies or risk the shortcut over the rugged inland track.

The typewriter was lowered into the boat and I groped my way down the net. A choppy sea made the landing craft bob constantly up and down. I finished the climb at a low point and had to finish with a slide down the guide rope.

The loaded craft rode smoothly and the trip was uneventful although land batteries were firing constantly and we never were sure they would not lob one in our vicinity.

There also was the constant danger of a shore searchlight catching us in its beam as it swept the water. We were headed into an unknown situation since communications between the ship and land forces were still fragmentary at that point.

As we approached the shore we passed a lighter stranded atop a rock. The coxswain zig-zagged and twisted to avoid the rocks, then drove straight at the beach. The nose was firmly on the sand as approximately 35 assault troops began pouring over the front.

Wave Bursts Over Boat

Just at that point a huge wave burst high over the boat. It was well over my head and I got the full impact since I was in the rear of the boat. It didn't stop the de-barkation, however. Another wave rocked the boat and the man ahead of me fell as he climbed. He fell on top of me and I went slithering down on the boat deck.

When I scrambled to my feet it was my time to leap out of the bobbing boat into the surf. I made it and started struggling through ankle deep water to the beach where I recovered my typewriter from a tough sergeant who seemed to have taken the whole operation much more calmly than I.

Hugging the sides of the street in single file, my company made its way silently through Sintaya. We passed a few turbanned figures and an occasional creaking cart. From doorways silent people watched our progress.

Hop Ride in Jeep

From temporary headquarters, Drew Middleton of the New York Times and I tagged a ride in one of the first jeeps brought across the sandy beach. Through the heavy mist of early morning we raced along a narrow road toward the airport which was the objective of our front.

At the same time, the Vichy radio acknowledged that Gen. Auguste Nogues, former commissioner general of Allied-occupied French Morocco, had joined Admiral Darlan in Allied councils.

On the winter-gripped Russian front, there was little change in any of the key sectors.

"In the Stalingrad area, fierce fighting continued," Red Army headquarters reported. "Our troops are firmly defending their positions and repulsing attacks by enemy infantry and tanks."

Dispatches to Red Star, the Soviet

Army newspaper, characterized the repeated German attacks as the beginning of a new Nazi offensive, but the official bulletin did not indicate a large-scale battle.

By the time we reached Maison Blanche airport it was already in American hands and Lieutenant Col. Rosenfeld was directing his men in cheering and clapping and shouting to us. They obviously had turned out early to see what was happening. It gave me a reviving thrill to hear those cheers which were genuinely clear and spontaneous.

The questionnaires which are to be unsigned will give the name of the club, the county in which it is located and a statement as to whether the club member or her husband is purchasing bonds or stamps regularly. An estimate also is asked of the maturity value of the bonds and stamps so purchased since May 1 of last year.

Bullets Meet Ursinus At Collegeville In Conference Game Saturday Afternoon

EXPECT SHIFTS IN LINEUP OF G-BURG ELEVEN

Gettysburg college's football team will go after its fourth victory of the season Saturday afternoon when Ursinus is met at Collegeville in an Eastern Pennsylvania conference game.

The Bullets could earn a first-place tie with Muhlenberg for the championship by winning while the Mules lost to P. and M. at Lancaster. However, Muhlenberg is a big favorite to win over the Diplomats, and second place appears to be the best the Bullets can reach through a win.

Saturday's game will mark the 23rd game between the Orange and Blue and the Bears. Gettysburg holds a wide advantage with 15 wins as against four losses. Three games of the series, which started in 1963, resulted in ties.

In an effort to secure the maximum offensive power to hurl at the Bears, "Hep" Bream has indicated he will shakeup his starting lineup although he has not announced any definite starting combination.

Battle For Birth

Mike Baden and Ned Linta have been given much attention during the past week at the fullback position and one of the pair may draw a starting assignment. Baden had been performing as a utility end until this week.

One change may also be made on the line. Bob Frying, sub end, may be moved into a starting role in place of Tony Yovino.

Despite the unimpressive record of Ursinus, the Bullets are anticipating a stiff battle. Last week the Bears displayed their best form of the season in defeating Drexel. In Steward and Dwyer Ursinus has a pair of hard-running backs who rank with the best the Bullets have met during the present season.

The kickoff at Collegeville is slated for 2 o'clock.

1942 Collegiate Football Teams Have Better Offense

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—College football not only is continuing its trend toward greater offense but it is doing it with greater economy of effort.

The nation's gridiron teams were averaging 222.8 yards a game. This compared with a 1941 final average of 221.8 yards.

Michigan-Notre Dame: Tie yourself in to a fine knot by looking over their records and drawing appropriate comparisons. This corner is going to forget all that and toss the coin, which says ... Notre Dame.

Alabama-Georgia Tech: Precisely in the same category. The Crimson major teams are averaging 247.7 yards a game per team, although running second to the southeast in actual scoring.

In accounting for this, the statistical bureau pointed out that competition is more even in the midwest and consequently there have been fewer one-sided games where one team has had more than yards because some scores come by other means than strictly offense.

The midwest and southeast almost monopolize honors when it comes to sectional supremacy. Here are the figures:

Scoring—Southeast 174.3 points per game, midwest 165, southeast 152, east 142, far west 127.

Total offense—Midwest 247.7 yards, southwest 211.9, southeast 239.1, far west 229, east 224.

Passing—Midwest 85.9 yards, southwest 83, far west 82.1, southeast 79.1, east 71.2.

Most passes attempted—Southwest 16.5 a game, far west 15.3, midwest 11.6, southeast 13.9, east 13.

Percentage of pass completions—Southeast 41.5, midwest 40.8, far west 37.1, southwest 37.0, east 35.7.

Punting—Southeast 37.45 yards per punt, east 36, midwest 35.90, southwest 35.18, far west 34.91.

SCRIBES PICK GEORGIA TECH TO TRIM 'BAMA

By ROMNEY WHEELER

Atlanta, Nov. 13 (AP)—Thundering Tech to take tide by two touchdowns!

That's the consensus of southern scribes, in the words of Clarence Green of the Marlan (Ky.) Daily Enterprise, on the eve of Georgia Tech's big game with Alabama.

In fact, if Tech loses here tomorrow, before a sell-out crowd of 33,000, there'll be scarlet-faced sports experts from Florida to the Georgia-Carolina line.

The unbeaten, untied Yellowjackets are favorites by better than two-to-one in a poll by The Associated Press. Twenty-five editors look for Tech to roll onward to its eighth straight victory. Ten believe that Bama has the edge.

10 Pick Tech

Even in Alabama, regard for Georgia Tech is high. The vote there is divided, three-to-three with veteran Zipp Newman of the Birmingham News cannily declining commitment either way.

Of 12 sports editors calling the score, 10 rate Tech as strong enough to score two touchdowns or more against the Crimson tide, and six make the flat prediction of three touchdowns for Tech against one or two for Bama.

Marshal Johnson of the Anniston (Ala.) Star is spokesman for the minority: "Tech has no, Shreveport, he argues, "and Bama win a close one."

Married Men To Be Inducted Soon

Harrisburg, Nov. 13 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters is planning to call some married men—wed before Pearl Harbor—to meet the December draft quota.

A survey just completed has shown that each local board would be required to furnish a few such married men, Col. B. F. Evans, acting state director said yesterday.

He added, however, that "if single men become available they will be used first," explaining that the bulk of the call will be made up of single men with collateral dependents.

The supply of single men was practically exhausted in filling the November call and state headquarters said it is still too early to estimate how the effect that passage of the bill to draft 18 and 19-year-olds will have on conscription next month.

Boards have been inducting men married after last December 8—or at a time when their selection was imminent—along with single men.

College Romance Ends In Divorce

Rochester, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP)—Phil Colella, 176-pound Rochester high school junior, will be after a mark of 150 points when his team plays Ellsworth high tonight.

Colella, a sensational backfield star, has scored 134 points in nine games this season, including 22 touchdowns—three of them after runs of more than 60 yards. His average is 31.5 yards per touchdown. He made 72 points as a sophomore last year.

Ambridge handed Rochester its first defeat in 14 games and almost stopped Phil's scoring spree this season, but he finally got across in the third period.

NAVY, CORNELL, PRINCETON AND ARMY GIVEN NOD

By HERB BARKER

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—Reserving the right to demand a recount after all the returns are in, this football guesse goes along with his corrigible way:

Michigan-Notre Dame: Tie yourself in to a fine knot by looking over their records and drawing appropriate comparisons. This corner is going to forget all that and toss the coin, which says . . . Notre Dame.

Alabama-Georgia Tech: Precisely in the same category. The Crimson Tide has one of the strongest defensive outfits in the country but could not halt Slinkwich and Georgia through the air. Tech's defense has been more than adequate and its passing game is the strong point of its attack. Doubtfully, Georgia Tech.

Wisconsin Selected

Ohio State-Illinois: Close, but Ohio State.

Wisconsin-Northwestern: Wisconsin.

Fordham-Boston college: undefeated Boston.

Texas-Texas Christian: Texas.

Bayor-Tulsa: This should prove whether or not Tulsa, unbeaten and untied, belongs in the upper brackets. This corner thinks it does. Tulsa.

Missouri-Oklahoma: Missouri to Clinch the Big Six crown again.

Yale-Princeton: Both in-and-outers. Out of the hat . . . Princeton.

Oregon-Southern California: Southern California.

Columbia-Navy: Navy.

Dartmouth-Cornell: Cornell.

Brown-Harvard: Sheer guessing Brown.

Colgate-Syracuse: Ditto on this one. Syracuse.

Duquesne-Mississippi State: Mississippi State.

Picks Holy Cross

Holy Cross-Temple: We should have given up on the Crusaders long ago. Still, Holy Cross, stubbornly.

North Carolina Naval-Manhattan: North Carolina Naval.

Nebraska-Pitt: Maybe the spot for Pitt to get back on the track. Pitt.

Penn State-Penn: Usually close and this may be no exception. Penn.

Virginia Tech-Army: Army.

Auburn-Louisiana State: Not easy, but LSU.

Duke-North Carolina: Duke.

Georgia-Chattanooga: Unbeaten Georgia.

Georgia Pre-Flight-Tulane: Where's that coin? Georgia Naval.

Iowa-Minnesota: Can Iowa do it twice in a row? Doubtfully. Minnesota.

Kansas State-Indiana: Indiana.

Mississippi-Tennessee: Tennessee.

Oregon State-Stanford: Stanford.

Other Selections

Purdue-Michigan State: Eerie.

Michigan . . . Michigan State.

North Carolina State-Georgetown: On the toss of a coin, Georgetown.

Texas A. and M.-Rice: Even-Stephens. The Aggies.

Arkansas-Southern Methodist: SMU.

West Virginia-Kentucky: West Virginia.

Skipping over the chalklines otherwise: Wake Forest over George Washington; Jacksonville Naval over Clemson; Corpus Christi over Pensacola; South Carolina over Furman; Davidson over Washington and Lee; Florida over Miami; Kansas over Iowa State; Maryland over Virginia; California over Montana; Oklahoma A. and M. over St. Louis; William and Mary over Virginia Military; Washington State over Idaho; Washington (St. Louis) over Drake; Texas Tech over Creighton; Lehigh over Dickinson; Rutgers over Fort Monmouth; Lafayette over Lakehurst; Williams over Amherst; Utah over Wyoming; Colorado over Brigham Young; Denver over Utah State; Colorado State over Greeley; Detroit over Villanova; Santa Clara over St. Mary's; Great Lakes over Marquette.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGH JINKS

Here are some of the kids that high school grid fans think are the season's champs (no college scouts are allowed to beat the starting gun): Bob Lucas of Paulding, Ohio, high has scored 272 points and gained 1,714 yards from scrimmage in seven games. . . . Juke Hohn of Anamosa, Iowa, completed 77 of the first 84 passes he threw this season for 1,434 yards . . . and Bob "General" Lee of New Castle, Pa., has gained 1,145 yards by rushing in 130 tries, completed 21 of 45 passes scored 15 touchdowns and, as safety man, hasn't let an opponent get past him to score. . . . Oh, yes, he does the punting and calls the signals.

1942 Collegiate Football Teams Have Better Offense

Chicago, Nov. 13 (AP)—College football not only is continuing its trend toward greater offense but it is doing it with greater economy of effort.

The nation's gridiron teams were averaging 222.8 yards a game. This compared with a 1941 final average of 221.8 yards.

And where last year's collegians averaged a point for every 16 yards gained, they're getting that point by traveling only 15 yards. As a result, 1942 teams are boasting of a 14.8 point a game average to the 13.75 of last year.

The statistical bureau pointed out that competition is more even in the midwest and consequently there have been fewer one-sided games where points build up faster than yardage because some scores come by other means than strictly offense.

The midwest and southeast almost monopolize honors when it comes to sectional supremacy. Here are the figures:

Scoring—Southeast 17.4 points per team per game, midwest 16.5, southwest 15.8, east 14.8, far west 12.7.

Total offense—Midwest 247.7 yards, southwest 241.9, southeast 239.1, far west 229, east 224.9.

Passing—Midwest 85.9 yards, southeast 83.8, far west 82.1, southwest 79.1, east 71.3.

Most passes attempted—Southwest 16.5 a game, far west 15.3, midwest 14.6, southeast 13.9, east 13.

Percentage of pass completions—Southeast 41.5, midwest 40.8, far west 37.1, southwest 37.0, east 35.7.

Punting—Southeast 37.45 yards per punt, east 36, midwest 35.80, southwest 35.18, far west 34.91.

SCRIBES PICK GEORGIA TECH TO TRIM 'BAMA

By ROMNEY WHEELER

Atlanta, Nov. 13 (AP)—"Thundering Tech to take tide by two touchdowns!"

That's the consensus of southern sports editors, in the words of Clarence Green of the Harlan (Ky.) Daily Enterprise, on the eve of Georgia Tech's big game with Alabama.

The supply of single men was practically exhausted in filling the November call and state headquarters said it is still too early to estimate how the effect that passage of the bill to draft 18 and 19-year-olds will have on conscription next month.

Boards have been inducting men after last December 8—or at a time when their selection was imminent—along with single men.

Married Men To Be Inducted Soon

Harrisburg, Nov. 13 (AP)—State Selective Service headquarters is planning to call some married men—wed before Pearl Harbor—to meet the December draft quota.

A survey just completed has shown that each local board would be required to furnish a few such married men, Col. B. F. Evans, acting state director said yesterday.

He added, however, that "if single men become available they will be used first," explaining that the bulk of the call will be made up of single men with collateral dependents.

AXIS STRIPPED TUNISIA'S ARMS

(Editor's note: Some of what lies ahead of the Allies in Tunisia is told in the following dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent who became well acquainted with the French North African empire during an assignment of several months last year.)

By WILLIAM C. MCGAFFIN
New Delhi, India, Nov. 13 (AP)—The efficiency of the Axis in its French protectorate's topography will help the Americans and their British Allies in their drive to occupy the last French foothold in North Africa.

Flat, land sloping gently down to the Mediterranean are ideal for maneuvering tanks and landing airborne troops.

When I was there last year the French were fearful the Germans would profit by this terrain.

The French also were worried by the thorough job the Axis armistice commission had done in dismantling Tunisia's once strong fortifications, feeling that this had laid them open to easy German occupation any time that Hitler directed.

The Mareth line, French North Africa's "Little Maginot" defenses facing the border of Libya, was made virtually impotent by the Italians' systematic destruction.

Similarly, the great port and Naval base of Bizerte, which had been powerfully armed up to 1940, was so weakened after the armistice that the French confidentially confessed that "Germans could take it whenever they wished" with a minimum of trouble.

As to the terrain, the farther south you go in the flatter it gets. It is flat, treeless and monotonous. In the south, around Gabes, it is semi-desert.

BRITISH RETAKE

known what emergency reserves he may be holding there.

The question now was whether he would hug the coast for its better road and water supplies or risk the shortcut over the rugged inland track.

300-Mile Advance

The communists did not elaborate on the indication that the Axis was fleeing from Tunisia, but only yesterday Allied sources had reported that German reinforcements were being flown into the French protectorate to meet the combined American-British force rapidly approaching it from Algeria.

With Tobruk, a vital and normally defensible position, already in British hands there was no indication where Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel might try—if at all—to halt his retreat.

The British already have pushed him back 300 miles from the El Alamein line and virtually with each mile his manpower and armored strength have dwindled under ceaseless land and air attack.

British headquarters announced that the Eighth Army had occupied

Bardia, 236 miles west of El Alamein and about 15 miles deep in Libya to the Egyptian border, and that

Allied planes were hammering at Rommel's transport near Tobruk.

Allies Nearing Tunisia

Anglo-American troon columns numbering perhaps as high as 150,000 men were reported near the Tunisian frontier, racing eastward in a synchronized sweep to help trap Rommel's armies fleeing from Egypt.

Once held in Allied hands, Tunisia could serve as a jumping-off point for an invasion of the Italian islands of Sicily and Sardinia, Italian-occupied (French) Corsica or even the French mainland.

There was still no news on the exact whereabouts of the French fleet based at Toulon, France, although the Nazi-controlled Vichy

air force insisted it was still in harbor and in French hands.

French General Joints Darlan

Admiral Jean Darlan, chief of all

Vichy's armed forces before he was captured by American troops last Sunday night at Algiers, joined Allied leaders in urging the French fleet to escape to Gibraltar.

At the same time, the Vichy radio acknowledged that Gen. Ambrice

Nemes, former commanding general of Allied-occupied French Morocco, had joined Admiral Darlan in Allied councils.

On the winter-trapped Roman front, there was little change in any of the key sectors.

"In the St. L'Alma area, fierce fighting continued," said Army headquarters reported. "Our troops are firmly defending their positions and repulsing attacks by enemy aircraft and tanks."

On the front, Red Star, the Soviet Army newspaper, characterized the repeated German attacks as the beginning of a new offensive, but the official bulletin did not indicate a large-scale battle.

An Evening Thought

That which renders life burdensome to us generally arises from the abuse of it.—Rousseau.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

COMPARISON

We'll be seeing them tomorrow, boys with blank and sightless eyes, Broken lads who go on breathing, yet to toil can never rise. And against that sort of service we shall seem a sorry crew If we've ever stood and quibbled over tasks we're asked to do.

They'll be coming home from battle as our Country's glorious dead! And we'll have to group about them as the last few words are said. Oh, I wonder how we'll do it? How to face them we shall dare If for any trivial reason we have failed to do our share?

We shall have to go to meet them when the victory is won. Have to sit with them and listen as they talk of what they've done; And I wonder how we'll do it if the least of them finds out That for any selfish reason we have idly stood about.

DIVERSIFIED TASTES

None of us look at things in exactly the same way. Also, few of us have the same tastes, though they may be congenially near. A wide variety of tastes, however, is most valuable in the development of a personality.

Nearly all of us have been influenced by the first books that we read. Take the instance of Lincoln. He had few books from which to learn or read. But the Bible was one of them. Also a copy of Blackstone's Commentaries. The reading of the Bible is evidenced in the simple and clear language that he used and from many phrases and illustrations that he took from the Bible. The reading of Blackstone undoubtedly influenced him to take up the study and practice of law.

The late Sir William Robertson Nicoll, famous editor of "The British Weekly," once stated that he considered "Don Quixote," "The Arabian Nights" and "The Pilgrim's Progress" as three of the most valuable books for children.

Charles Darwin, speaking of his college days said this: "The only qualities which at this period promised well for the future were that I had strong and diversified tastes, much zeal for whatever interested me, and a keen pleasure in understanding any complex subject or thing."

I believe in hero worship. Over and over again, as a boy—and still as somewhat of an older boy—Carlyle's inspiring book "Heroes and Hero Worship" has been and is a great favorite. Biography also has always inspired me, as I am sure it does all who have given themselves to its reading. We look up to those who have helped us to look up!

That which had much to do with us to President Theodore Roosevelt was that he had such a diversity of tastes. He was the friend of cowboys, prize-fighters, writers, teachers, social workers, leaders in all walks of life, and was a hunter, a lover of nature, and a genial companion, as all know who ever met him. Nothing interesting seemed alien to his taste. He was a great American—and an international friend.

The more diversified your tastes, the more interested you become in everything and the greater becomes your vision. Your horizon widens as well.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Lovers of Nature."

AMERICA'S 1ST
ALL-SURFACE
FIGHT OF WAR

(The Navy Department last Oct. 13 announced in a communiqué the destruction of at least one heavy Japanese cruiser and four destroyers and heavy damage to other enemy ships in an engagement the night of October 11 with an American task force. The task force had been ordered to intercept enemy ships attempting to effect further landings on Guadalcanal island. Tom Yarbrough, Associated Press war correspondent who was aboard one of the American ships, tells here of the nighttime encounter.)

By TOM YARBROUGH

Aboard United States Cruiser in the Solomon Sea, Oct. 27 (Delayed) (AP)—This is the story of the United States Navy's first surface victory in a battle between heavy ships since the Spanish-American war.

Led by this ship a force of cruisers and destroyers surprised and wiped out a similar Japanese force in the pitch darkness of night October 11 near the tiny island of Savo off Guadalcanal.

Counting "probables," the American ships sank three cruisers and five destroyers and lost only one destroyer. Another U. S. destroyer was damaged slightly and two cruisers were hit by shells but the damaged ships came out under their own power.

No Planes Involved

No planes were involved; it was ships against ships, about evenly matched, although the American force probably was slightly stronger. Systematic shakedown reports from all the ships showed that two Japanese heavy cruisers and four destroyers certainly were sunk and one light cruiser and one destroyer probably sunk. Report's agreed that the American ships "sank everything in sight" and left little likelihood that any Japanese ship got away.

The battle occurred only two nights before the enemy opened a new counter-offensive against Guadalcanal and, therefore, left a big gap in the Japanese Naval force being shaped up for the stroke that began with the heavy bombardment of Henderson Field, core of the U. S. Marine establishment and now—16 days later—in full swing by land, sea and air.

Race Type of Fight

A clash of this kind, involving surface ships alone, naturally is rare in this day of Naval air power. The U. S. Navy came through the first World war without a single contest between surface forces. In the present war, the United States and Japanese surface vessels had met three times before.

As darkness came on the appointed night, the American force was moving at a speed calculated to place it in the vicinity of Savo Island and Cap Esperance northwest of Guadalcanal shortly before midnight. That area was the favored terminus of the "Tokyo express."

Two stoves, fired by wood, were burning for a session of Sunday school Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Sunday school closed about 11 o'clock, and no further services were scheduled for the day.

Birth Announcements: A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Horner, Cumberland township, on Tuesday morning.

Highway Office to Be Removed to Harrisburg: Reorganization of the state Highway department's field forces, including the removal of the offices of District Engineers R. J. Harper from the Hotel Gettysburg annex to Harrisburg, was announced Wednesday afternoon by the secretary of highways in Harrisburg.

Nurse Is Home from Panama: Miss Minerva Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Hartman, Gettysburg R. 4, has arrived home from Ancon, Panama, where she served fifteen months on the Panama hospital staff.

Black, B. and L. Secretary: George P. Black, Baltimore's street, has been elected secretary of the Adams County building and loan association, succeeding E. A. Crouse, who resigned recently.

Rupp to Refuse Council Berth: C. Ray Rupp, Steinwehr avenue, who was elected as a councilman from the third ward in Tuesday's general election, on Thursday announced that he will not serve.

"I have always been a Republican, and I do not know why I was nominated for council on the Democratic ticket at the primary," he said.

The retiring members of the school board, George W. Black and I. L. Taylor, both Republicans, will be succeeded by Harry L. Snyder, Republican, and Roy W. Wentz, Democrat.

Writer Describes Battle In Which Japs Lost 8 Warships

Flashes of Life

(By The Associated Press)

SUPERSTITIOUS AGE

Indianapolis—Nancy Linkhart is having her birthday today, Friday the 13th, and has invited 13 guests, one for each letter of her name. Guess how old she will be?

Range 4,000 Yards

In battle formation, the warships plowed ahead—cruisers and destroyers all in their assigned stations. Nothing turned up on the first run across the hot passage, and about six miles west of Savo island the ships doubled back to continue the search.

Then it came—at 10:46. A column of Japanese cruisers and destroyers bearing southeast straight for Cape Esperance. Some destroyers between the opposing cruisers. Range about 4,000 yards.

Our ships put their searchlights on the enemy and instantly let go with the first shot. That first salvo and the incessant murderous fire that followed threw the Japs into confusion. It was ten minutes before they returned the fire.

Ninety seconds after the opening round of gunfire, three Japanese destroyers were burning and the searchlights were no longer necessary. By the time the Japs had collected their wits enough to start shooting, they were turning away to the west, trying to break off the action. They were cut and torn by the continuous stream of shattering fire from our large and medium caliber guns at short range. Most of the Japanese fire, once it did start, was wild.

Torpedoes from both sides were streaking through the water but no Japanese torpedo found its mark. Our torpedoes did.

One Jap cruiser was well ahead of the other three. For convenience in picturing the engagement they might be called A, B, C, and D, from the front to the rear.

39-Minute Fight

At 10:52, D, which had wheeled sharply back to the north, rolled over and sank. B, which had swung sharply to the right in attempting to withdraw, blew up and probably sank.

That left A up ahead. As A made her right turn, her stern was a clear target for a broadside from our leading cruiser—and all the shots went home. They blew her stern off and she sank.

In the meantime, one American cruiser which had caught most of the hits scored by the Japs in the entire engagement, pulled off to the left toward Guadalcanal—with nearly half her main battery still firing.

"If we look back closely enough we will realize those days weren't so good after all," he told the Emergency Aid of Pennsylvania in an address.

"It would be far better to x x x accept the challenge and go forward x x x to greater production and better distribution, new products and new markets, to a greater industrial and social democracy."

Claims Witnesses Get Testimony Pay

St. Louis, Nov. 13 (AP)—Richard J. Beamish, Pennsylvania public utility commissioner, says "there are expert witnesses who will give you any answer you pay for" when called to testify on the value of utilities' properties.

"It is time to stop chicanery and nonsense x x x and get down to an actuarial, honest series of yardsticks," Beamish told the National Association of Railroad and Public Utilities Commissioners at a convention here.

The commissioner charged that millions of dollars have been taken from the public by "the shady depreciation devices of utilities."

Berlin, against Thomas Hutchinson,

Baltimore, and in a counter claim of the latter's wife, Mrs. Marie

Hutchinson against Hoffman.

The jury was given the case for verdict at 4:10 p. m., and within eight minutes was ready to report.

The foreman, Chauncey D. Bond, announced the verdict in favor of the plaintiff, Mrs. Hoffman, for the sum of $180.30. In the counter action by Mrs. Hutchinson, in which Hoffman was the defendant, the jury found in the latter's favor.

Trial of the case took up all of

Wednesday in Judge Anderson's court. The action was based on an automobile accident which occurred in New Freedom, Dec. 24, 1940, when a truck of the plaintiff, operated by his son, Raymond Hoffman, Jr., was allegedly struck by a car owned by

Mrs. Hutchinson, operated at the time by her husband, Thomas Hutchinson.

The defense was that there was contributory negligence on the part of Hoffman. The suit was for property damages only.

DRIVER EDUCATION

State College, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP)—A nation-wide driver education program to forestall a "wave of unnecessary accidents" after the war was advocated today by Amos E.

Neuhart, head of Pennsylvania State college's public safety institute.

The country is so preoccupied with the war effort, he declared, that already there are indications of a relaxation of formerly high safety standards. Neuhart suggested that the program start in schools and colleges so the pupils "will provide the nation with competent safe drivers

for the post war period."

By 1 a. m. the United States force

could find nothing more to shoot

at and took a course away from the battle area to count noses, consolate, and cool off.

The fight had lasted only 39

minutes.

Old Horse Thief Returns To Home

Lancaster, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP)—Joe Burred, who calls himself "the best darned horse thief in the country," has come back to his old stamping ground—but not to do any horse stealing. Eighty-three years old and in ill health, Joe has retired to the Lancaster County home.

Joe, last of the gang of Buzzard brothers which operated in Lancaster, Berks and Chester counties, was released from Eastern penitentiary in September after serving three years for stealing a horse and buggy. He went to Wilmington, Delaware, saying he had "reformed" and would open "a legitimate business." He became too ill to work.

Burred has spent 37 years of his life serving prison sentences, and has regaled wardens for years with tales of his exploits. Now, he says, his horse-stealing career has ended.

An Evening Thought

That which renders life burdensome to us generally arises from the abuse of it.—Rousseau.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

COMPARISON

We'll be seeing them tomorrow, boys
With blank and sightless eyes,
Broken lads who go on breathing,
Yet to toil can never rise.
And against that sort of service we shall seem a sorry crew
If we've ever stood and quibbled over tasks we're asked to do.They'll be coming home from battle as our Country's glorious dead!
And we'll have to group about them
as the last few words are said.
Oh, I wonder how we'll do it? How to face them we shall dare
If for any trivial reason we have failed to do our share?We shall have to go to meet them when the victory is won.
Have to sit with them and listen as they talk of what they've done;
And I wonder how we'll do it if the least of them finds out That for any selfish reason we have idly stood about.

DIVERSIFIED TASTES

None of us look at things in exactly the same way. Also, few of us have the same tastes, though they may be congenitally near. A wide variety of tastes, however, is most valuable in the development of a personality.Nearly all of us have been influenced by the first books that we read. Take the instance of Lincoln.
He had few books from which to learn or read. But the Bible was one of them. Also a copy of Blackstone's Commentaries. The reading of the Bible is evidenced in the simple and clear language that he used and from many phrases and illustrations that he took from the Bible. The reading of Blackstone undoubtedly influenced him to take up the study and practice of law.The late Sir William Robertson Nicol, famous editor of "The British Weekly," once stated that he considered "Don Quixote," "The Arabian Nights" and "The Pilgrim's Progress" as three of the most valuable books for children.Charles Darwin, speaking of his college days said this: "The only qualities which at this period promised well for the future were that I had strong and diversified tastes, much zeal for whatever interested me, and a keen pleasure in understanding any complex subject or thing."I believe in hero worship. Over and over again, as a boy—and still as somewhat of an older boy—Carlyle's inspiring book "Heroes and Hero Worship" has been and is a great favorite. Biography also has always inspired me, as I am sure it does all who have given themselves to its reading. We look up to those who have helped us to look up!That which had much to endear us to President Theodore Roosevelt was that he had such a diversity of tastes. He was the friend of cowboys, prize-fighters, writers, teachers, social workers, leaders in all walks of life, and was a hunter, a lover of nature, and a genial companion, as all know who ever met him. Nothing interesting seemed alien to his taste. He was a great American—and an international friend.The more diversified your tastes, the more interested you become in everything and the greater becomes your vision. Your horizon widens as well.Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Lovers of Nature."The Almanac

FIGHT OF WAR(The Navy Department last Oct. 13 announced in a communique the destruction of at least one heavy Japanese cruiser and four destroyers and heavy damage to other enemy ships in an engagement the night of October 11 with an American task force. The task force had been ordered to intercept enemy ships attempting to effect fur-

the Solomon Sea, Oct. 27 (Delayed) (AP)—This is the story of the United States Navy's first surface victory in a battle between heavy ships since the Spanish-American war.Republican leaders were willing to concede the election of the two Democratic candidates for county commissioners, James I. Devine and H. B. Geiselman, with interest centering on the race between S. A.
Buhman and D. R. Stoops for the minority position on the board.Dr. E. D. Hudson, Sr., Gettysburg polled 1,131 votes for commissioner.Overwhelming Ernest L. Myers, Charles G. Taughnbaugh, Democrat, won re-election as register and recorder.In like manner George W. Reichle, Democrat, swamped Clarence C.
Smith for treasurer.Two Democratic candidates, John
A. Stambaugh and C. E. Lawyer, arefar ahead of their Republican rivals for two positions on the board of county poor directors.Indications were that Hiram H.
Thomas and George W. Topper, both Democrats, would be two members of the board of county auditors, with Samuel C. Lott, Republican, as minority man.Dr. E. A. Miller, Democrat, was elected coroner, defeating Dr. C. G.
Crist.District Attorney John P. Butt, Democrat, and Leroy H. Winebrenner, running on both tickets, had no opposition.

November 30—Last quarter.ing slight burns, they got the rubber boat from the flaming plane and paddled all the way around Savo Island and turned up safely at Guadalcanal three days later.
Range 4,000 YardsIn battle formation, the warships plowed ahead—cruisers and destroyers all in their assigned stations. Nothing turned up on the first run across the hot passage, and about six miles west of Savo island the ships doubled back to continue the search.Then it came—at 10:46. A column of Japanese cruisers and destroyers bearing southeast straight for Cape Esperance. Some destroyers between the opposing cruisers. Range about 4,000 yards.Our ships put their searchlights on the enemy and instantly let go with the first shot. That first salvo and the incessant murderous fire that followed threw the Japs into confusion. It was ten minutes before they returned the fire.Ninety seconds after the opening round of gunfire, three Japanese destroyers were burning and the searchlights were no longer necessary. By the time the Japs had collected their wits enough to start shooting, they were turning away to the west, trying to break off the action. They were cut and torn by the continuous stream of shattering fire from our large and medium caliber guns at short ranges. Most of the Japanese fire, once it did start, was wild.Torpedoes from both sides were striking through the water but no Jap torpedo found its mark. Our torpedoes did.One Jap cruiser was well ahead of the other three. For convenience in picturing the engagement they might be called A, B, C, and D, from the front to the rear.

39-Minute Fight

At 10:52, D, which had wheeled sharply back to the north, rolled over and sank. B, which had swung sharply to the right in attempting to withdraw, blew up and probably sank.That left A up ahead. As A made her right turn, her stern was a clean target for a broadside from our leading cruiser—and all the shots went home. They blew her stern off and she sank.In the meantime, one American cruiser which had caught most of the hits scored by the Japs in the entire engagement, pulled off to the left toward Guadalcanal—with nearly half her main battery still firing.By 1 a. m. the United States force could find nothing more to shoot
at and took a course away from the battle area to count noses, consolidate, and cool off.The fight had lasted only 39 minutes.

WHAT A LEMON!

State College, Pa., Nov. 13 (AP)—
A lemon 17 inches in circumference and weighing two and a half pounds was placed on exhibit in the office of the Centre Daily Times. In the present war, the United States and Japanese surface vessels had met three times before.As darkness came on the appointed night, the American force was moving at a speed calculated to place it in the vicinity of Savo island and Cap Esperance northwest of Guadalcanal shortly before midnight. That area was the favored terminus of the "Tokyo express."The battle occurred only two nights before the enemy opened a new counter-offensive against Guadalcanal and, therefore, left a big gap in the Japanese Naval force being shaped up for the stroke that began with the heavy bombardment of Henderson Field, core of the U. S. Marine establishment and now—16 days later—in full swing by land, sea and air.The battle occurred only two

Wishful Thinking Won't Destroy Tokyo

It'll take men, material—
and YOUR money!

Before we can knock the Japanese to their knees, you and everyone of us are going to have to put at least 10% of our pay into War Bonds. Not somebody else, but you and me—NOW!

Because all-out war takes money. You can't buy Victory at the dime store. If you think so, take a look at what a 2,000-plane raid* takes in men, money, and materials:

- Value of planes participating, $600 million
- Cost of fuel consumed, $11 million

*Based on British raids on Cologne and Essen as given in INS news report.

- Cost of bombs dropped, $12 million
- Total men involved on ground, 240,000
- Total men involved in air, 12,000
- Probable losses in airmen killed or captured, 400
- Probable losses in planes, 79

Total cost—Everybody all-out for Victory and everybody putting at least 10% of pay every pay day into War Bonds!

Destroying the military heart of Japan is definitely worth it. Are you saving your 10%?

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33 1/3 percent more in 10 years! You get back $4 for every $3 you invest!

These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semiannually!

Joining a Pay Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy! Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every pay day NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

Wishful Thinking Won't Destroy Tokyo

It'll take men, material—
and YOUR money!

Before we can knock the Japanese to their knees, you and everyone of us are going to have to put at least 10% of our pay into War Bonds. Not somebody else, but you and me—NOW!

Because all-out war takes money. You can't buy Victory at the dime store. If you think so, take a look at what a 2,000-plane raid* takes in men, money, and materials:

- Value of planes participating, $600 million
- Cost of fuel consumed, $11 million

*Based on British raids on Cologne and Essen as given in INS news report.

- Cost of bombs dropped, $12 million
- Total men involved on ground, 240,000
- Total men involved in air, 12,000
- Probable losses in airmen killed or captured, 400
- Probable losses in planes, 79

Total cost—Everybody all-out for Victory and everybody putting at least 10% of pay every pay day into War Bonds!

Destroying the military heart of Japan is definitely worth it. Are you saving your 10%?

DO YOU KNOW?

When you buy WAR BONDS, you're saving, not giving! Series E WAR BONDS are worth 33 1/3 percent more in 10 years! You get back $4 for every $3 you invest!

These BONDS, when held to maturity (10 years), yield 2.9 percent per year on your investment, compounded semiannually!

Joining a Pay Roll Savings Plan makes saving easy! Joining your bank's Victory Club (it works like any Thrift or Christmas Club) is a convenient way to save for War Bonds for those who aren't members of a Pay Roll Savings Plan.

You can have enough money to do a lot of things you'd like to do, and to buy the many things you'll need after the war is over, if you save enough in War Bonds every pay day NOW!

You can start buying WAR BONDS by buying War Stamps for as little as 10 cents.

COLONEL TALKS AT ARMISTICE EXERCISES HERE

Public exercises at the Gettysburg high school at 10:45 o'clock Wednesday morning, sponsored by the members of the Albert J. Lenz post No. 202 of the American Legion of Gettysburg, marked the first war-time observance of Armistice Day in Gettysburg.

World War II was seen simply as a "resumption of World War hostilities," by Colonel Edward J. Oliver, Gettysburg college ROTC commandant, who delivered the Armistice Day address. "Able leaders have emerged to guide us to victory. We and our allies should maintain after the war a strong foreign policy which will prevent a strong aggressor from getting into power in the future," he declared.

Traces Events

Colonel Oliver, who was in Siberia when the Armistice was signed 24 years ago, traced events since that time that led up to the current war. He charged that after Versailles Germany took deliberate steps to violate the terms of the treaty resulting finally in its repudiation by Hitler in 1937 and Germany's aggression in Europe.

"The treaty of Versailles was not a bad treaty—except for Germany and they were the defeated nation," the speaker observed.

C. Arthur Braine, commander of the Lenz post of the Legion, presided over this morning's exercises with members of the post on the platform with him. Buglers sounded "To the colors" as a color guard advanced the colors to the platform with the Legionnaires following. After the pledge of allegiance the assembly sang two stanzas of America and then prayer was offered by Chaplain Howard Strausbaugh.

For 30 seconds the assembly stood in silence in memory of the men who made the supreme sacrifice in the World war. In brief remarks Commander Braine recalled the first Armistice Day "when this war-torn world turned to peace." He continued: "Now we are engaged in another great war to achieve the peace we thought we had won 24 years ago. We won the war but lost the peace." Commander Braine then read a letter written by an officer of the Wasp to his 5-year-old son just before that carrier was destroyed.

Chorus Sings

A high school chorus directed by Miss Dorothy Brindle, supervisor of music in the Gettysburg public schools, sang "Your Land and My Land" and Kipling's "Recessional." John Shoop sang the solo part in the second selection.

Colonel Oliver's address followed. The assembly sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and after a bugler sounded taps the colors were retired and the exercises closed.

DR. JOHN KNOX JOINS SERVICE

Gettysburg's sixth physician to join the armed forces of the United States in World War II is Dr. John J. Knox who on Saturday will close his office on York street to become a first lieutenant in the Air Corps.

Doctor Knox went to Harrisburg two weeks ago to volunteer his services to the U. S. Army. He has passed his physical examinations and has received his lieutenant's commission but has not yet been advised where he will be assigned.

Mrs. Knox and their young son, John E. Knox, will continue to reside in the Sache's apartments in Gettysburg, for the present.

Doctor Knox, who has practiced in Gettysburg for three years and a month, is a graduate of Gettysburg high school. In 1933 he was graduated from Mount St. Mary's college and four years later completed his studies at the University of Maryland medical school.

Gettysburg doctors already in the service are Drs. Edgar A. Miller, James B. Goyne, William P. McKnight, Roy W. Gifford and John P. Rhoads.

Medical doctors remaining in Gettysburg include Dr. B. N. Wolff, chief surgeon at the Warner hospital; Dr. C. Harold Johnson, Dr. C. G. Crist, Dr. Raymond F. Sheely, Dr. H. M. Hartman, Dr. W. S. Mountain and Dr. Henry Stewart.

TO EDIT G-BOOK

Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1943 "G-Book," handbook for freshmen at Gettysburg college. He was selected on the merit basis by the last year's executive board of the book.

Turkeys May Be 60c Per Pound

The prospect of Thanksgiving turkeys at 40 cents a pound liveweight or 60 cents a pound dressed appeared at the farmers' market Saturday. Those prices were quoted today with the qualification that the figure may go up by Thanksgiving Day.

Young ducks were on sale at 15 and 40 cents a pound dressed weight Saturday morning while dressed chickens continued at 40 and 45 cents a pound. Pork prices showed no change today.

Large and small chrysanthemums banked many stands at the market house Saturday morning. The small "mums" brought 15, 50, 75 cents and $1 a bunch while the large blooms sold at from 75 cents to $2 a dozen.

Eggs continued to sell for 50 cents a dozen with pullet eggs marked 40 cents. Two dollars remained the top price for apples while both potatoes and sweet potatoes were sold at $2 a bushel.

URGES EARLIER XMAS MAILINGS TO SERVICE MEN

If many Adams county soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians who are serving in distant parts of the nation or the world are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, their friends must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. Postmaster C. A. Williams said today.

He urged countians to use the compact and efficient V-mail envelopes for sending Christmas messages abroad. They are handled by the "most expeditious means" and are delivered much more promptly than mail through regular channels, he pointed out. The V-mail envelopes may be secured upon request at the local postoffice.

Gigantic Task

While only several hundred of them have been distributed to date, many more than that number have been received here from boys in the service, he stated.

Of the general preparations made for handling the huge volume of Christmas mail that is expected, Mr. Williams had the following to say:

"The Post Office department is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world."

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always pressage heavy mailings.

Need Cooperation

The best efforts of the Post Office department alone cannot be enough, in view of the wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist. Arrangements are being made to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs but this manpower is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and airlines are heavily taxed by the movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain.

The free mailing privilege extended to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 percent, it is estimated. Expansion of those forces is adding rapidly to the postal burden.

"The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas."

Theatre War Sales Totals $11,107.50

War bonds and stamps sales at the Majestic theatre last week amounted to $260.45. Mrs. A. H. Barr in charge of the volunteer women workers announced Tuesday. The total sales since the establishment of the booth in Gettysburg is now $11,107.50.

Those aiding last week were Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Mrs. Baker, Evelyn Barbeau, Kathleen Ortillip, Mrs. Richard Brown, Lona M. Black, Mrs. Edgar L. Deardorff, Mrs. Fred Hahn, Mrs. C. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. Marie Stelzner, Dora C. Beall and Mrs. W. J. Stallsmith.

Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1943 "G-Book," handbook for freshmen at Gettysburg college. He was selected on the merit basis by the last year's executive board of the book.

YWCA WILL USE $1000 GIFT TO PURCHASE BOND

The $1,000 bequeathed to the Gettysburg YWCA earlier this year in the will of the late Mrs. Lillie K. Aughinbaugh will be invested in a Series "G" war bond and the interest will be used annually to purchase books for the "Y" library as a memorial to Mrs. Aughinbaugh.

Members of the board of directors of the "Y" voted at their regular November meeting Monday afternoon at the association building.

Investment of the $25 to be received annually as interest on the bond in expanding the "Y" library will be kept with Mrs. Aughinbaugh's interest in the welfare of that department of the YWCA's services to the Gettysburg community, board officers pointed out. While she was living Mrs. Aughinbaugh donated many books to the "Y" library in addition to her financial contribution.

Re-Cataloging Books

Re-cataloging of the present library is going forward with high school Girl Reserves doing the work, Miss Ilona Rechel, office secretary at the "Y," told the board members. She said that John H. Knickerbocker, Gettysburg college librarian, is instructing the girls in library procedure.

Miss Rechel also told the board of other phases of the current Girl Reserve program. Seventh and eighth grade Girl Reserve groups have been organized and are busy on a 10-point program that will lead to Girl Reserve buttons for the seventh graders and special emblems for those of the eighth grade. The program offers the group arts and crafts, community service, worship and devotional programs, home-making, and dramatics and fellowship programs.

Freshmen Girl Reserves are planning a Thanksgiving dinner and devotional program for November 20. Sophomores are planning a similar event for November 19.

Plans are being made at the "Y" for the ceremony of the lighting of the Greens early in December at the association building.

Miss Sara C. Black First Countian To Enlist In WAVES

Miss Sara C. Black, daughter of Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. George P. Black, Baltimore street, is awaiting call for active duty with the WAVES, women's auxiliary branch of the U. S. Navy, it was learned today.

She enlisted on October 31 at Philadelphia and passed her physical and mental tests and was sworn into service the same day. Her knowledge of languages, especially German, was one of her qualifications that assured her acceptance as the first woman from Adams county to enter the WAVES.

A former member of the Gettysburg high school faculty, Miss Black has been an instructor in languages at the Cheltenham township high school, Elkins Park, Pa.

The V-mail envelopes may be secured upon request at the local postoffice.

While only several hundred of them have been distributed to date, many more than that number have been received here from boys in the service, he stated.

Of the general preparations made for handling the huge volume of Christmas mail that is expected, Mr. Williams had the following to say:

"The Post Office department is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world."

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always pressage heavy mailings.

Need Cooperation

The best efforts of the Post Office department alone cannot be enough, in view of the wartime difficulties faced by the postal system. The public must assist. Arrangements are being made to add thousands of temporary personnel to postal staffs but this manpower is hard to find and is inexperienced. Facilities of railroads and airlines are heavily taxed by the movements of huge quantities of war materials and personnel. Extra trucks are almost impossible to obtain.

The free mailing privilege extended to members of the armed forces has raised their mailings some 30 percent, it is estimated. Expansion of those forces is adding rapidly to the postal burden.

"The deadline already is past for mailing gifts to Army and Navy personnel overseas with assurance that the parcels will arrive by Christmas."

COLONEL TALKS AT ARMISTICE EXERCISES HERE

Turkeys May Be 60c Per Pound

The prospect of Thanksgiving turkeys at 40 cents a pound liveweight or 60 cents a pound dressed appeared at the Farmers' market Saturday. Those prices were quoted today with the qualification that the figure may go up by Thanksgiving Day.

Young ducks were on sale at 15 and 40 cents a pound dressed weight Saturday morning while dressed chickens continued at 40 and 45 cents a pound. Pork prices showed no change today.

Large and small chrysanthemums banked many stands at the market house Saturday morning. The small 'mums' brought 15, 50, 75 cents and $1 a bunch while the large blooms sold at from 75 cents to $2 a dozen.

Eggs continued to sell for 50 cents a dozen with pullet eggs marked 40 cents. Two dollars remained the top price for apples while both potatoes and sweet potatoes were sold at $2 a bushel.

URGES EARLIER XMAS MAILINGS TO SERVICE MEN

If many Adams county soldiers, sailors, marines and civilians who are serving in distant parts of the nation or the world are not to be disappointed at Christmas time, their friends must cooperate by mailing earlier than ever before and by addressing letters and parcels properly. Postmaster C. A. Williams said today.

He urged countians to use the compact and efficient V-mail envelopes for sending Christmas messages abroad. They are handled by the "most expeditious means" and are delivered much more promptly than mail through regular channels, he pointed out. The V-mail envelopes may be secured upon request at the local post office.

Gigantic Task

While only several hundred of them have been distributed to date, many more than that number have been received here from boys in the service, he stated.

Of the general preparations made for handling the huge volume of Christmas mail that is expected, Mr. Williams had the following to say:

"The Post Office department is starting the most gigantic task in its history—the movement of a deluge of Christmas parcels, cards and letters while maintaining the regular flow of millions of pieces of mail daily to and from our armed forces all over the world."

War bonds and stamps sales at the Majestic theatre last week amounted to $260.45. Mrs. A. H. Barr, in charge of the volunteer women workers announced Tuesday. The total sales since the establishment of the booth in Gettysburg is now $11,107.50.

Those aiding last week were Mrs. Edmund W. Thomas, Mrs. Baker, Evelyn Bartaux, Kathleen Orth, Mrs. Richard Brown, Lona M. Black, Mrs. Edgar L. Deardorff, Mrs. Fred Haehnlen, Mrs. C. Robert Deardorff, Mrs. Marie Steinour, Dora C. Beal and Mrs. W. J. Stallsmith.

TO EDIT G-BOOK

Robert B. Fortenbaugh, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, Broadway, has been named editor-in-chief of the 1943 "G-Book," handbook for freshmen at Gettysburg college. He was selected on the merit basis by the last year's executive board of the book.

YWCA WILL USE $1000 GIFT TO PURCHASE BOND

The $1,000 bequeathed to the Gettysburg YWCA earlier this year in the will of the late Mrs. Lillie K. Aughinbaugh will be invested in a Series "G" war bond and the interest will be used annually to purchase books for the "Y" library as a memorial to Mrs. Aughinbaugh, members of the board of directors of the "Y" voted at their regular November meeting Monday afternoon at the association building.

Investment of the $25 to be received annually as interest on the bond in expanding the "Y" library will be in keeping with Mrs. Aughinbaugh's interest in the welfare of that department of the YWCA's services to the Gettysburg community, board officers pointed out. While she was living Mrs. Aughinbaugh donated many books to the "Y" library in addition to her financial contribution.

Eggs continued to sell for 50 cents a dozen with pullet eggs marked 40 cents. Two dollars remained the top price for apples while both potatoes and sweet potatoes were sold at $2 a bushel.

RE-Cataloging Books

Re-cataloging of the present library is going forward with high school Girl Reserves doing the work, Miss Ilona Reichl, office secretary at the "Y," told the board members. She said that John H. Knickerbocker, Gettysburg college librarian, is instructing the girls in library procedure.

Miss Reichl also told the board of other phases of the current Girl Reserve program. Seventh and eighth grade Girl Reserve groups have been organized and are busy on a 10-point program that will lead to Girl Reserve buttons for the seventh graders and special emblems for those of the eighth grade. The program offers the group arts and crafts, community service, worship and devotional programs, home-making, and dramatics and fellowship programs.

Freshmen Girl Reserves are planning a Thanksgiving dinner and devotional program for November 20. Sophomores are planning a similar event for November 19.

Plans are being made at the "Y" for the ceremony of the Hanging of the Greens early in December at the association building.

The board president, Mrs. Robert Fortenbaugh, presided at the meeting with 10 present. The opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ira Henderson.

CAMPAIGN FOR USO CONTINUES; FUND NEAR GOAL

In Gettysburg the various canvas areas have submitted these reports: $307.42 from lower York street; $268.80 from Chambersburg and North Washington streets; $127.05 from East and West Broadway and Lincoln avenue; $89.50 from Spring street; $78.75 north end of Carlisle street; $50.90 from Barlow, East and West Stevens and North Stratton streets; $49.35 from West Middle; $41.50 from upper Carlisle and Water streets; $28.50 from South, South Washington, West High and Breckinridge Sts.; $27.65 from lower Baltimore St. and Steinwehr avenue; $27.25 from Fourth, Fifth, lower East Middle and Liberty streets; $24.50 from Buford and Seminary avenues and Howard street; $18.50 from upper East Middle, South Stratton and East High streets, and $15.20 from the Gettysburg colored community.

Indications are that the volume of Christmas mail will be the largest on record. Already in September, latest month for which figures are available, retail sales had reached a level second only to the record month of December, 1941, according to the Department of Commerce. Such heavy purchases always pressage heavy mailings.

Organizations Donate

The Knoose corporation at Peach Glen has given $50 and the Monday Night Bridge club, Mrs. Lila Craig, treasurer, gave $25. The Little Thursday Bridge club, Mrs. E. W. Thomas, treasurer, contributed $10, and the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce has sent in a check for $10. Checks for $5 each have been received from Meade school, the St. James Mite society and the St. James Bible school.

Thank-Offering Service On Sunday

The Women's Missionary society of Zion Lutheran church, Fairfield, will sponsor a Thank-Offering service at the church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Luther Slifer, a former missionary to India, will be the speaker. Special music will be rendered. The service is open to the public.

Miss Sara C. Black First Countian To Enlist In WAVES

Miss Sara C. Black, daughter of Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. George P. Black, Baltimore street, is awaiting call for active duty with the WAVES, women's auxiliary branch of the U. S. Navy, it was learned today.

She enlisted on October 31 at Philadelphia and passed her physical and mental tests and was sworn into service the same day. Her knowledge of languages, especially German, was one of her qualifications that assured her acceptance as the first woman from Adams county to enter the WAVES.

A former member of the Gettysburg high school faculty, Miss Black has been an instructor in languages at the Cheltenham township high school, Elkins Park, Pa.

HAINES TRAILS GRASS NOW BY ONLY 42 VOTES

With military ballots yet uncounted the official tabulation of congressional votes cast in the York-Adams-Franklin district in the Nov. 3 election has given Chester Gross a lead of only 42 votes instead of the 167 announced after unofficial computations were made on election night.

Decision in the contest now rests entirely on the outcome of the final count of the military ballots today.

Official Figures

These are the official figures on the civilian voting on November 3:

Haines	Gross
Adams	4,351
Franklin	6,179
York	23,548
Totals	34,078
	34,120

The official tabulation in Adams county confirmed the unofficial count.

Times figures on the unofficial count election night. Slight changes were found in the Franklin count but in York, Mr. Haines' total was increased by 108 votes while Mr. Gross lost four from election night totals.

The minister, who was born in Boonsboro, Maryland, in 1890, attended Gettysburg college for one year as member of the class of 1916 and then after working for 11 years as a salesman entered the Lutheran ministry in 1927 after his graduation from the Susquehanna Theological seminary.

The Missionary society of the Mt. Joy Lutheran church held a farewell party Wednesday evening at the parish hall, in conjunction with the regular meeting, for Mrs. Paul B. Beard, wife of the pastor, who will leave soon to reside in Baltimore.

Mrs. Clarence Smith, president of the society, presented Mrs. Beard a luncheon cloth, a box of linen handkerchiefs and a bouquet of chrysanthemums on behalf of the society.

Legion Women Give $2.50 To USO Drive

The Women's Auxiliary of the local American Legion post voted $2.50 to the county USO fund at the group's regular meeting Monday evening at the Legion home. Mrs. Howard Hartzell, the president, presided, with about 25 persons, present.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kane, near Cashtown, both of whom were 72 years old in September, observed their fiftieth wed-ding anniversary Monday at their home.

Gold Works Magic For Doughboys In Africa

By WILLIAM FRYE

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP)—Gold coin, long a stranger to the American path, is working its potent magic for the doughboys in North Africa.

Now, official Washington claims that all it knows about the matter is what it reads in the papers, but it is willing to hazard a guess that a lot of the soldiers in the expeditionary force have been supplied with small amounts of gold pieces to help them out of tight spots.

The hard yellow stuff has been mentioned at least twice in stories from the front. It gleamed briefly, but in large amount, in the exciting tale of Maj. Gen. Mark W. Clark's secret visit to the French colonies three weeks ahead of the invasion. Part of his equipment was $18,000 in gold—and it was lost overboard.

Part of General Condition

Then Lt. Roland F. Wooten, Jr., who made a crash landing in the Algerian desert, was guided back to his base by two tribesmen, who were rewarded with cigarettes, candy—and gold pieces.

In the opinion of the aforementioned persons who disdain knowledge but are willing to guess, it's fairly obvious that these two incidents are part of a general condition—General Clark and Lieutenant Wooten were hardly the two single individuals in the whole North African campaign who happened to find themselves in possession of gold, which may or may not have been American coins.

And there are obvious reasons. A desert tribesman, who never heard of Fort Knox, probably wouldn't give a ten-dollar bill a second sneer, but he knows gold when he sees it, and trusts it where he wouldn't trust anything else.

Money Is Gold

Noted travelers in the desert, such as Doughty, Burton and Lawrence, all have reported how the desert has a way of reducing the business of living to final simplicity. Black is black, white is white, honor is absolutely nothing—and money is gold.

So, gold coin apparently was just another detail in the careful and thorough planning that preceded the landing of American troops in the French North African colonies. If the tribesmen have materials or services for sale, gold is the one payment guaranteed to be satisfactory. If they join the Allies, payment in gold would be completely acceptable, and something else would not be. T. E. Lawrence told many times of the difficulties he had in timing the arrival of gold shipments to pay his desert warriors during the Arab revolt in the first World war.

At home, gold is for jewelry, teeth fillings and Treasury vaults. But the men of the desert don't understand a managed currency.

Crushed Glass
Spilled In Streets

Pittsburgh, Nov. 13 (AP)—Crushed glass spread like cinders over a two-mile stretch of East End avenue brought a flood of telephone calls from tire-conscious motorists to the Pittsburgh Bureau of Highways and Severs and the Automobile Club of Pittsburgh yesterday.

An official of a trucking firm which hauls crushed glass from a bottling company to glass plants explained the end gate of a loaded truck apparently had slipped open without the driver's knowledge.

47 Counties Get Scrap Pennants

Harrisburg, Nov. 13 (AP)—Forty-seven of Pennsylvania's 67 counties participated for War Production Board pennants for collecting 100 pounds or more of scrap per capita.

A committee of judges certified the counties-to-state salvage headquarters yesterday. The judges were William N. Hardy, manager of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association; Justice George W. Maxey, of the state Supreme court, and J. V. Simpson, Philadelphia businessman.

Counties which qualified are: Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Berks, Bradford, Butler, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Chester, Clinton, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Forest, Fayette, Greene, Huntingdon, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lawrence, Lebanon, Licking, Lycoming, McKean, Mercer, Mifflin, Monroe, Montgomery, Monongahela, Northampton, Northumberland, Philadelphia, Potter, Schuylkill, Somerset, Susquehanna, Tioga, Warren, Washington and York.

Other Officers

The other officers installed Friday included: Vice president, Mrs. C. W. Baker, Jr.; Duquesne, a former resident of Gettysburg; recording secretary, Mrs. E. Martin Grove, Harrisburg; statistical secretary, Mrs. Thomas Malin, York, and treasurer, Miss Grace Fuhrman, Baltimore, a former general league secretary.

To List Those in Service

The league set up as its special project for the coming year the securing of names of young men and women who are in their country's service for the Victory Honor Book which was opened at Thanksgiving's session.

It is urged that each sub-league have one meeting during the year in which this project is emphasized.

The members further decided that unless hindered by circumstances, we go on working for a chapel which will serve as a gospel lighthouse for years to come." The league stated however that it "stands ready in case of need to divert its efforts for the college into the channel deemed most necessary."

The league voted continued support of the Student Christian Association by the contribution of $100 toward a summer training course for the SCA president.

Baltimore League Assigned Program

Other recommendations of the president which were endorsed by league action follow: "That we use every opportunity to turn the attention of young men and women to Gettysburg college; and that in the spirit of our matchless Christ we pray daily for all mothers' sons, under any flag, who are fighting for the armed forces for their country; and that we implore our Heavenly Father to bring this world soon to a knowledge of the futility and the sin of war."

This morning the Baltimore league was assigned the program for the 1943 league convention which will be held unless circumstances prevent it. Attendance this year was above average with more than 200 officers, delegates and visitors in attendance.

Mrs. Frank Kramer, Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh and Mrs. Donald Heiges, all of Gettysburg, were named to the literature committee. The nominating committee for next year includes Mrs. W. R. Sammel, York; Mrs. M. C. Wood, Hanover, and Mrs. J. D. Rohrer, of the Lancaster league.

Roecker Delights Audience At First Concert Of Season

Members of the Gettysburg Concert association were delighted on Tuesday with the first concert of the season, the presentation of Edward Roecker, a handsome young baritone, whose voice shows a background of good teaching and diligent application on the part of the singer.

Mr. Roecker, in his opening number, won his audience with his vibrant tones and appealing manner. His programme was well chosen and each number was greeted with enthusiasm.

His first group of English numbers and his second of German love songs proved Mr. Roecker to be truly an artist. The last number of the second group "The Two Grenadiers," by Schumann, was especially appealing.

The prologue from "I Pagliacci," by Leoncavallo, revealed Mr. Roecker as not only a singer but an actor as well.

As an encore to this number he chose an old Irish song, "Because I Was Shy," which he cleverly interpreted.

The "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodiade" was artistically rendered.

His encore "When I Have Sung My Song" was also well received.

The last group was concluded with a medley from "New Moon," in which Mr. Roecker was right at home. He is always outstanding in light opera. His interpretation of this number and his encore "Old Man River" from "Show Boat," by Jerome Kern, was splendid and each was received with vociferous applause.

Another encore "The Rich Man," by Hageman, was well done and brought hearty response from the audience.

The concluding number "Love Down" was by Louis Shenk, to whom Mr. Roecker gives all credit for his diction and phonetics. There was not a word in any language on the programme which could not be understood by his listeners.

Paul Berl, splendid in his role of accompanist, proved himself to be a pianist of rare ability also.

His group of two numbers was so well received that the audience demanded an encore, for which he chose "Country Garden" by Percy Grainger.

Mr. Berl has been in this country only four years. He received his musical education at the Academy of Music in Vienna, Austria. He fled just before his country was invaded by the Nazis.

With such a glorious beginning for the Gettysburg Concert series this year, members are looking forward with eagerness to the next two concerts, Erno Balogh, who will be in Gettysburg some time in February and Suzanne Sten, who will appear in March.—M. S. S.

AUTO OWNERS MUST REGISTER NOV. 19, 20 OR 21

Every passenger car and motorcycle owner in Adams county who wishes to continue the operation of the vehicles must register November 19, 20 or 21 at a school site, the location of which will be announced soon by the county War Price and Rationing board.

The dates were fixed Tuesday at a meeting of the rationing board staffs of central Pennsylvania held in the Office of Price Administration headquarters in Harrisburg. District Manager Guy J. Swope had invited the officials to hear the details of the new mileage rationing program explained by T. Harold Dempsey, regional OPA representative, and Joe Davern, Pennsylvania tire specialist.

ATTEND MEETING

Those who attended the Harrisburg meeting from Adams county included: Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., chairman of the county rationing board; Dr. Herbert C. Alleman and Paul M. Rohrbaugh, of Rationing Board No. 2; Mrs. Jack Kress and Mrs. Helen Corbett from the county and Board No. 2 office staff; Richard Livingston and Henry Seiff, of Rationing Board No. 1, and Miss Ella Winand, member of the office staff of Board No. 1.

THE OPA ISSUED THE FOLLOWING INSTRUCTIONS:

The most important information needed to fill out both parts of the application is the list of serial numbers on every tire which you or any relative living in your home own for a specific vehicle. The serial numbers are the indented numbers on the tire walls. They are not to be confused with any raised numbers appearing on the tires.

Passenger car owners with more than five tires for each vehicle are required to dispose of these excess tires no later than November 21. Excess tires can be sold to the government by merely phoning the local office of the Railway Express agency.

TIRE INSPECTION REQUIRED

The other important part of the registration is to obtain a tire inspection record to be used for periodic tire inspection. Motorists having "A" books will be required to have all tires inspected every four months, "B" and "C" book holders, every two months.

Those who fail to register at the time indicated will be subject to a call from the board after the registration date to explain why they haven't done so, and they may have their ration book revoked.

The new "C" sticker will be larger and show the twenty classifications that are eligible for preferred mileage. Each "C" sticker will show the classification for which the driver qualified.

"Mileage rationing" is a combination of rationing tires and gasoline as a unit of mileage. Commercial vehicles and trucks were required to register with the Office of Defense Transportation and have their War Necessity Certificates by November 15, in order to qualify for gasoline and tires after that date.

Because of the severe scarcity of rubber those eligible for tires, both passenger cars and trucks, will be fewer under the new program than the present.

The new type of tires and classification will be Grade 1, Grade 2, Recapping, Used Tires and Grade 3, which will be known as the Victory Tire. The excess tires over five sold to the government will be reconditioned if repairs are needed. The old tires that were turned in some weeks ago, the rubber has been reclaimed and used for building Victory Tires.

Fleets consisting of three or more cars must likewise give up all tires in excess of five on each car. However, this does not apply to state, local or federal governments.

Trailers will be allowed tires on the wheels only.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. M. Tussing, acting rationing officer, and was attended by 150 men and women from central Pennsylvania.

ENGLE'S JAUNTS CRUSH LOCALS; SACHS SCORES 2

Gettysburg high school's foot-ball machine was knocked out of the race for the Southern Pennsylvania conference championship Friday evening when Mechanicsburg's speedy outfit pulled a mild upset to hand the Maroons their second defeat of the season at Mechanicsburg to the tune of a 26-13 score before about 2,500 fans.

Hanover's unbeaten eleven clinched the 1942 title by lacing Hershey at Hanover 32-14. Last year the Nighthawks and Mechanicsburg finished in a deadlock for first place and were declared co-champions.

The Maroons' setback can be traced to the efforts of Engle, speedy Mechanicsburg back, who was a thorn in the side of the Forney-men all evening. He tallied two touchdowns and hurled a pass which resulted in a third score. Engle raced 82 yards for his first score and 23 yards for another touchdown.

Sachs Keeps Pace

Engle's work was matched almost completely by the play of Ross Sachs who was easily the outstanding performer for Gettysburg. Sachs tacked two touchdowns to keep him high in the league scoring and was the only consistent ground-gainer for the Maroons.

Wickerham kicked off to start the game and Engle returned to his 35. The Maroon and Gray team rolled off two straight first downs before

Stewart got off a nice kick that went out of bounds on the Maroons' 10. Sachs and Sherman combined to reel off two straight first downs and then Sachs punted to the Mechanicsburg 30. Stewart was soon forced to return the punt and Sachs made a pretty 40-yard run back to midfield. Sherman got around end for 11 yards and lateraled to Wickerham for a first down on Mechanicsburg's 37 as the period ended.

Opening the second period Sachs whipped a pass to Odert which was good for about 15 yards and a first down on the 15. Mechanicsburg braced and took the ball on its eight.

Engle's First

The first Mechanicsburg tally came two plays later. Engle picked up eight yards around end and on the next play he swept around his own left end behind nice interference to race 82 yards for a score. Stewart added the extra point on a placement.

Coyer returned Stewart's kickoff to his own 40 and then Sachs scampered 25 yards to reach the enemy's 35. Again the Maroon attack faltered and then Stewart, who played a good game, broke through to block Sachs' punt and recover on Gettysburg's 40. Coach Fredericks' lads could get nowhere and Stewart punted to Sachs on the 20.

After an exchange of punts, Odert recovered a fumble on Mechanicsburg's 45 stripe to pave the way for the Maroons' first tally. A run and lateral Sachs to Sherman, was good for nine yards and Sherman hit the line for a first down on the 34. Sachs picked up two yards at center and then ran 15 to reach the 15. Mechanicsburg braced but on the last down Sachs went around left end to reach the eight. Two plays later Sachs swept right end for a score. Wickerham's kick was blocked after the pass from center was high.

Block Punt, Score

Another blocked punt by Dixon gave Mechanicsburg the spark for its second touchdown in the early minutes of the third period. The punt was recovered on Gettysburg's 28 from where Engle raced around right end for a score. Again Stewart converted.

The fighting Maroons roared right back and marched 65 yards for a score. With Sachs running strong and aided by two passes, Sachs to Wickerham, and Sachs to Spahr, four straight first downs were recorded and then the Maroon ace raced around end from the 12 for a tally. Wickerham booted the extra point.

A few plays later Mechanicsburg scored again. Keet ran 11 yards for a first down at midfield and then Engle got off a 35-yard jaunt to reach the 14. After Engle lost a yard on a line play, Keet on a lateral went around left end for a score. Stewart's placement was low.

Pass for Tally

Using an off-side kickoff which was recovered on Gettysburg's 40 by Mechanicsburg, the Frederick-coached aggregation soon scored again. Engle made five yards on a plunge and after another play failed, Engle passed 15 yards to Stewart who lateraled to Dixon who raced the remaining distance for a score. The Maroon line broke through to block the placement.

Flocks of substitutes poured from both benches in the waning minutes of the game. The Maroons started another drive and when the game ended had reached the Mechanicsburg eight-yard stripe.

Coach Forney's lads recovered 16 first downs to their opponents 15 but Engle's long runs proved too much to overcome. The Maroons completed seven of 18 passes while Mechanicsburg made good on one of three serial tries.

POWERS SCORES ON 2ND HALF KICKOFF RUN

In one of the hardest fought games ever staged in Lewisburg, Bucknell eked out a 7-6 victory over the Gettysburg college Bullets Saturday afternoon, the margin being provided on a placement for the extra point.

Both touchdowns were scored with lightning rapidity and were made in about one minute after the second half opened.

Starting the third period Johnson kicked to "Chuck" Beaver on the Gettysburg 20. Beaver raced up-field 10 yards and then handed the ball to Joe Powers, Bullet speedster, and the latter streaked down the field for 70 yards and score. Blackwood attempted a placement kick for the extra point but the kick was blocked and this ultimately spelled defeat for the Bream-men.

Just two plays later Bucknell tied the count. The Bisons returned the Gettysburg kick-off to the 40 and at that point Johnson took the ball, broke through the line and out into the clear and behind excellent interference raced 60 yards for a score. He added the point on a placement.

The first half resulted in a series of long drives by each team but on each occasion the attack stalled near the goal lines.

Part returned the opening kick-off to his 30 and then a Bucknell fumble was recovered by Schumacher on the Bisons' 18. After March picked up four yards, through the left side of the line, Beaver fumbled and Bucknell recovered on the 15.

Podd and Johnson alternated to give Bucknell three straight first downs to the 50. The Bullets braced and then Podd kicked to Hart on the 16. From that spot the Bream-men launched their first threatening drive. Aided by an off-side penalty the Bullets made a first down on the 30. A pass, Hardy to Roberts, was allowed on interference on the 40. Hardy then shot a pass to Hart for a third straight first down on the 23. Beaver got away for 19 yards to make it a first down on the four. Here the Bullet attack broke down before the strong Bison defense and most games are being re-arranged in order that contests may be played on Friday evenings.

Abandonment of Jayvee league games was also decided upon in order that fewer players will have to be transported. It was recommended that varsity squads be kept to a minimum in order that only two cars will be necessary on trips.

One-Game Playoff

Victors of the two divisions will meet in a one-game playoff for the league championship.

As a result of action taken at the meeting each team will play a six-game league schedule. One game will be played each week and most games are being re-arranged in order that contests may be played on Friday evenings.

Another blocked punt by Dixon gave Mechanicsburg the spark for its second touchdown in the early minutes of the third period. The punt was recovered on Gettysburg's 28 from where Engle raced around right end for a score. Again Stewart converted.

The fighting Maroons roared right back and marched 65 yards for a score. With Sachs running strong and aided by two passes, Sachs to Wickerham, and Sachs to Spahr, four straight first downs were recorded and then the Maroon ace raced around end from the 12 for a tally. Wickerham booted the extra point.

A few plays later Mechanicsburg scored again. Keet ran 11 yards for a first down at midfield and then Engle got off a 35-yard jaunt to reach the 14. After Engle lost a yard on a line play, Keet on a lateral went around left end for a score. Stewart's placement was low.

Pass for Tally

Using an off-side kickoff which was recovered on Gettysburg's 40 by Mechanicsburg, the Frederick-coached aggregation soon scored again. Engle made five yards on a plunge and after another play failed, Engle passed 15 yards to Stewart who lateralized to Dixon who raced the remaining distance for a score. The Maroon line broke through to block the placement.

Flocks of substitutes poured from both benches in the waning minutes of the game. The Maroons started another drive and when the game ended had reached the Mechanicsburg eight-yard stripe.

Coach Forney's lads recorded six first downs to their opponents' six but Engle's long runs proved too much to overcome. The Maroons completed seven of 18 passes while Mechanicsburg made good on one of three aerial tries.

Two Local Women Get League Offices

Mrs. J. B. Baker Is Re-Named President

Mrs. Joseph B. Baker, York, formerly of Gettysburg, was re-elected to the presidency of the Women's League of Gettysburg college last Thursday, November 12, and Friday, November 13. The installation was for another year, along with other officers chosen for the coming year.

Mrs. Frederick K. Schwartz, president of the Gettysburg branch, was elected historian of the general league and Mrs. Thomas L. Cline, also of Gettysburg, was chosen as the league registrar.

Other Officers

The other officers installed Friday included: Vice president, Mrs. C. W. Baker, Jr.; Duquesne, a former resident of Gettysburg; recording secretary, Mrs. E. Martin Grove, Harrisburg; statistical secretary, Mrs. Thomas Main, York, and treasurer, Miss Grace Fuhrman, Baltimore, a former general league secretary.

The installation was conducted by Mrs. John Bennett, Harrisburg, chairman of the nominating committee which proposed the officers.

At this morning's final session of the thirty-first annual convention, the league adopted the report of the resolutions committee which included in its recommendations all of the goals set up by the league president Thursday afternoon in her annual report to the league.

To List Those in Service

The league set up as its special project for the coming year the securing of names of young men and women who are in their country's service for the Victory Honor Book which was opened at Thanksgiving's session. It is urged that each sub-league have one meeting during the year in which this project is emphasized.

The members further decided that "unless hindered by circumstances, we go on working for a chapel which will serve as a gospel lighthouse for years to come." The league stated however that it "stands ready in case of need to divert its efforts for the college into the channel deemed most necessary."

The league voted continued support of the Student Christian Association by the contribution of $100 toward a summer training course for the SCA president.

Baltimore League Assigned Program

Other recommendations of the president which were endorsed by league action follow: "That we use every opportunity to turn the attention of young men and women to Gettysburg college; and that in the spirit of our matchless Christ we pray daily for all mothers' sons under any flag, who are fighting for the armed forces for their country; and that we implore our Heavenly Father to bring this world soon to a knowledge of the futility and the sin of war."

This morning the Baltimore league was assigned the program for the 1943 league convention which will be held unless circumstances prevent it. Attendance this year was above average with more than 230 officers, delegates and visitors in attendance.

Mrs. Frank Kramer, Mrs. Ralph R. Gresh and Mrs. Donald Helges, all of Gettysburg, were named to the literature committee. The nominating committee for next year includes Mrs. W. R. Sammel, York; Mrs. M. C. Wood, Hanover, and Mrs. J. D. Rohrer, of the Lancaster League.

The new finance committee includes Mrs. P. D. Hoover, Waynesboro; Mrs. J. I. Burgoon and Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson both of Gettysburg. The new committee on promotion comprises Mrs. John Dapp, Mrs. S. S. Fackler, and Mrs. Robert Wolfe, all of Harrisburg; Junior League committee, Mrs. J. C. McCartney, Harrisburg; Mrs. L. U. Zech, York, and Mrs. Raymond Serrick, Baltimore.

Mrs. Gresh conducted the opening devotions at Friday morning's meeting and there were addresses by Dean W. E. Tilberg and Miss Dorothy Gregg Lee, dean of women at the college. Miss Lena Hartzell, Gettysburg, presented a flute solo accompanied by Mrs. Paul Kinsey. The closing meditation was conducted by Harry Berkebile of the Seminary.

The annual convention banquet Thursday evening at Huber hall was arranged by members of the Gettysburg branch league and was described as "a complete success." Mrs. Frederick K. Schwartz, local league president, presided with 223 persons in attendance.

Dr. Rasmussen Speaks

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary faculty, was the guest speaker. Mrs. Baker, league president, and the Rev. Dr. Joseph E. Baker, her husband, brought greetings.

Roecker Delights Audience At First Concert Of Season

Members of the Gettysburg Concert association were delighted on Tuesday with the first concert of the season, the presentation of Edward Roecker, a handsome young baritone, whose voice shows a background of good teaching and diligent application on the part of the singer.

Mr. Roecker, in his opening number, won his audience with his vibrant tones and appealing manner. His programme was well chosen and each number was greeted with enthusiasm.

His first group of English numbers and his second of German love songs proved Mr. Roecker to be truly an artist. The last number of the second group "The Two Grenadiers," by Schumann, was especially appealing.

The prologue from "I Pagliacci," by Leoncavallo, revealed Mr. Roecker as not only a singer but an actor as well. As an encore to this number he chose an old Irish song, "Because I Was Shy," which he cleverly interpreted. The "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Héroïde" was artistically rendered. His pianissimo work in "None But the Lonely Heart," by Tchaikovsky, was lovely as it was in the entire group. His encore "When I Have Sung My Song" was also well received.

The last group was concluded with a medley from "New Moon," in which Mr. Roecker was right at home. He is always outstanding in light opera. His interpretation of this number and his encore "Old Man River" from "Show Boat," by Jerome Kern, was splendid and each was received with vociferous applause.

Another encore "The Rich Man," by Hageman, was well done, and brought hearty response from the audience. The concluding number "Low Down" was by Louis Shnek, to whom Mr. Roecker gives all credit for his diction and phonetics. There was not a word in any language on the programme which could not be understood by his listeners.

Paul Berl, splendid in his role of accompanist, proved himself to be a pianist of rare ability also. His group of two numbers was so well received that the audience demanded an encore, for which he chose "Country Garden" by Percy Grainger. Mr. Berl has been in this country only four years. He received his musical education at the Academy of Music in Vienna, Austria. He fled just before his country was invaded by the Nazis.

With such a glorious beginning for the Gettysburg Concert series this year, members are looking forward with eagerness to the next two concerts. Erno Balogh, who will be in Gettysburg some time in February and Suzanne Sten, who will appear in March.—M. S. S.

MAN'S OBLIGATION

The wish to better life, at least,
Makes man superior to the beast.
The urge to fashion and improve,
To break from instinct's rigid groove
And curb his passions if he can,
Is the peculiar trait of man.
All other creatures live and die
And never question how or why.
Their only problem's food and drink;
Of nothing further need they think.

But man, in God's own image made,
Of many failures lives afraid.
He must do more with reason's light
Than merely serve his appetite;
For him there is stricter law
Than instinct's rule for tooth and claw;

Man must be strong and gentle, too;
Must learn his passions to subdue
And must in generous dealing, find
They way to fame and peace of mind.

Once fed, the beasts untroubled
sleep,
But man has goals to gain and keep.
And there is much of consequence
Which he must think and feel and sense;

And man has honors to deserve
And also God above to serve.
Though man has pleasures to enjoy
He still has evils to destroy;
Has knowledge here of good and bad;

All gifts the beasts have never had.

A MOTHER TALKS
"We know a war is on."

She softly said: "Our boy has gone!
You needn't say to us: 'Give all
Lest Freedom's starry flag shall fall.'
We've given all against such doom.
Upstairs we have an empty room.

"We shudder when loud men declare
As yet of war we're not aware.
To us the danger well is known
Our boy is in the battle zone!
We carry anxious hearts by day
And for his safety nightly pray.

"Aware of war! Step in and see
This home where laughter used to be.

Gone are the feet which raced the
stair

And there is stillness everywhere.
Give all, still victory is won!

We have. We've given the cause a son!"

Men should be careful how they speak.

Who waits for letters week by week,
Counts hours and miles and dwells
with dread;

Walks daily around an empty bed

Needs no reminding voice to tell

That war has come. She knows too well.

WAR BRIDE
How far lies the war away? A mother that I know

Got a letter from New Zealand just

a week or two ago

Saying: "May I call you mother,
though you live so far away?

Your son and I were married here

at Auckland yesterday."

From Michigan the distance down
to Auckland's rather great.
It's a lot of miles to travel to complete some trick of fate.
And that mother of that youngster never dreamed the day would be

When he'd marry in New Zealand,
and I'm certain nor did he.

There's a mother in New Zealand
who believed some English man

Would have wooed and won her daughter, not a lad from Michigan.

But the war has shortened distance
and has altered many lives

And has given to Yankee soldiers
very nice New Zealand wives.

be given on December 1. Mrs.
Syphax also sold an acre and a half

North York Votes

Convinced that something is wrong in the report of votes in the first district of north York, the York county commissioners, sitting as the county election board, will recount that district's ballots.

The decision was made Monday night when the York borough election board appeared to discuss the apparent discrepancy between the tally marks and sheet totals. No easy solution could be found to the apparent differences.

Although this situation is not yet cleared up, uncertain factors showed in another quarter as unofficial figures coming from York, Franklin and Adams counties whittled the lead of Chester H. Gross, republican candidate, over Harry L. Haines, democratic incumbent, to 42 votes.

MAN'S OBLIGATION

The wish to better life, at least,
Makes man superior to the beast.
The urge to fashion and improve,
To break from instinct's rigid groove
And curb his passions if he can,
Is the peculiar trait of man.
All other creatures live and die
And never question how or why.
Their only problem's food and
drink;

Of nothing further need they think.

But man, in God's own image made,
Of many failures lives afraid.
He must do more with reason's light
Than merely serve his appetite;
For him there is stricter law
Than instinct's rule for tooth and
claw;

Man must be strong and gentle, too;
Must learn his passions to subdue
And must in generous dealing, find
They way to fame and peace of mind.

Once fed, the beasts untroubled
sleep,
But man has goals to gain and keep
And there is much of consequence
Which he must think and feel and
sense;

And man has honors to deserve
And also God above to serve.
Though man has pleasures to enjoy
He still has evils to destroy;
Has knowledge here of good and
bad;

All gifts the beasts have never had.

A MOTHER TALKS
"We know a war is on."
She softly said: "Our boy has gone!
You needn't say to us: 'Give all'
Lest freedom's starry flag shall fall."
We've given all against such doom.
Upstairs we have an empty room.

"We shudder when loud men declare
As yet of war we're not aware.
To us the danger well is known.
Our boy is in the battle zone;
We carry anxious hearts by day
And for his safety nightly pray.

"Aware of war! Step in and see
This home where laughter used to
be,
Gone are the feet which raced the
stair
And there is stillness everywhere.
Give all, still victory is won!
We have. We've given the cause a
son!"

Men should be careful how they speak.
Who waits for letters week by week,
Counts hours and miles and dwells
with dread;
Walks daily around an empty bed
Needs no remaining voice to tell
That war has come. She knows too well.

WAR BRIDE
How far lies the war away? A mother that I know
Got a letter from New Zealand just
a week or two ago
Saying: "May I call you mother,
though you live so far away?"
Your son and I were married here
at Auckland yesterday."

From Michigan the distance down
to Auckland's rather great.
It's a lot of miles to travel to complete some trick of fate.
And that mother of that youngster
never dreamed the day would
be
When he'd marry in New Zealand,
and I'm certain nor did he.

There's a mother in New Zealand
who believed some English
man
Would have wooed and won her daughter, not a lad from Michigan.

But the war has shortened distance
and has altered many lives
And has given to Yankee soldiers
very nice New Zealand wives.

Order Recount In North York Votes

Convinced that something is wrong in the report of votes in the first district of north York, the York county commissioners, sitting as the county election board, will recount that district's ballots.

The decision was made Monday night when the York borough election board appeared to discuss the apparent discrepancy between the tally marks and sheet totals. No easy solution could be found to the apparent differences.

Although this situation is not yet cleared up, uncertain factors showed in another quarter as unofficial figures coming from York, Franklin and Adams counties whitened the lead of Chester H. Gross, republican candidate, over Harry L. Haines, democratic incumbent, to 42 votes.

This means-unless there is some major change in the north York district report—that the final decision on selecting the congressman will rest with the service men's vote.

So far in the three counties a total of 243 service men's votes has been received. Friday is the last day on which a ballot may be validly received for the election from service men.

LADIES GUESTS OF 2 SERVICE
CLUBS MONDAY

The superior resources of the Allied Nations finally will win this war of "mutual attrition" but this won't be the last war unless a new idealism that takes into account the needs of all nations is recognized at the peace table that follows. Dr. M. C. Lehman, Mennonite leader who directed American relief work in warring and conquered countries of Europe until Pearl Harbor, told members of the Gettysburg Rotary and Lions clubs, their ladies and guests Monday evening at a dinner meeting at the Battlefield hotel.

Speaking on the subject, "What Do the Germans Want?" Doctor Lehman placed first on his list of German aims the "destruction of the British Empire, arch enemy of the Reich." Germany also seeks "world recognition of its needs as an industrial nation and unless those needs are given consideration at the peace table we may expect periodic explosions in the future," the speaker predicted.

Nazis Have Plenty

Reporting on his observations, Doctor Lehman declared Germany has "plenty of food" but there is great suffering in Europe. In Poland, he said, the German Army leaves the farmers only enough for bare existence so that the people of the Polish cities face starvation. In Greece, three and a half million people will starve this winter, many of them before Christmas, he predicted.

Presenting the German point of view on the war and its cause, Doctor Lehman said German thinking in connection with the war goes back to Versailles. He branded the German policy of "vengeance and retaliation" as "reprehensible" and predicted that if Germany should win in Europe the Nazis would find it a physical impossibility to police the conquered territory for any great length of time.

The speaker urged his audience to take a "realistic" view on the war.

Doctor Lehman, who returned to this country in June after internment in Germany, via a diplomatic exchange ship, was introduced by Howard Musselman, program chairman of the Rotary club. Roarian President Paul A. Kinsey presided. William A. Beales, president of the Lions club, spoke briefly. The program opened with the singing of "America."

The treatment received by Jap prisoners seemed to depend upon the guards and whether or not they were drunk from celebrating Jap victories," Doctor Cooper said.

Doctor Cooper has been in occupied China since 1938 believes the Japs cannot conquer the Chinese and is eager himself to return to his mission field. He hopes to return within two years.

New accounts of Japanese brutality are not exaggerated, Doctor Cooper believes, and he told of one instance in which a Chinese evangelist had been tied up and hung by his hands from the gates of a Jap-occupied city. The mission hospital cared for many Chinese farmers shot by the Japs as they worked in their rice fields.

Doctor Cooper's mission was bombed once and one building shattered in an attack claimed by the Japs to have been a "mistake" but believed by the Americans to have been an attempt to frighten them out of the area.

Mrs. Cooper is the daughter of Dr. W. H. Greer, secretary of the United Lutheran Church in America.

More than 100 persons attended.
